JOY FRANKLIN / LOCAL NEWS / 08 MAY 2018

Haddonfield, NJ - Business owner Marcello De Feo is expecting a late spring opening for the specialty store "Valente's Italian Specialities" located at 7 Kings Court in the center of the downtown area.

Valente's Italian Specialities revealed that the company will be opening up a brick and mortar retail shop in downtown of Haddonfield, NJ. Valente's aims to create the fresh pasta, sauces, and various other Italian specialties.

"Our objective is to develop and distribute our goods in local businesses, online, directly to consumers, and with the eventual brick and mortar presence in South Jersey."

They will join a few other Italian businesses in the area, such as DiNic's and Angelo's which share the same approach to food: "We will make the best, freshest and highest-quality products to make sure you are 100% satisfied. It is not worth it to save money on a product if the quality lessens. Cutting corners is not an option."

Location: 7 Kings Court Haddonfield, NJ 08033
